Jodi Lyn O'Keefe Launches Q Jewelry Collection

Wings and Bows and Skulls – OH MY!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Studio City, Calif. – January 25, 2012 – Just months after launching the clothing line Queen George, actress/designer Jodi Lyn O'Keefe (“Prison Break”, “Law & Order”, “Two and a Half Men”) is at again introducing a fine jewelry collection. Leaving the skulls to her street couture line of tees, tanks, and hoodies she took a turn to the heavens with wings and bows in 18 karat yellow and white gold with diamonds in earrings, necklaces, rings and a rockin’ signature piece – a Rhodium cuff with black pave diamonds forming double wings. The entire line ranges from $2,500 – $10,000 and can be found at Curve and dari Boutique.

“I couldn’t be happier to have my dream come to life,” said O’Keefe Monday night at dari boutique where her launch party took place in Studio City, Calif. Guests included People’s Choice Awards host Kaley Cuoco, Minnie Driver, John Cusack, Grant Show, Jeremy Jackson, Alana De La Garza, and more. “My mom always said she gave her girls roots and wings so I am dedicating this first line to her. To see these pieces here tonight, and to have my mom here with me – it’s just amazing.”

This collection is the first of many for O’Keefe. Damien Hirst has commissioned custom pieces and she has started designing an expanded collection for 2013.
